

Salix

Baby Muskox

the little green clumps under your feet are willows, dwarfed by the arctic cold.

transplant them south and they grow big with hawks

-- poem to Sarah after our trip to tundra north of Cambridge Bay, Nunavut in 2000